

ARTICLES IN THIS ISSUE

Learning to See: Representing, Perceiving, and Judging Quantities of Numbers as a Task for In-Service Education for Pre-School Teachers

Christiane Benz

Laboratory Class Cycle: A Model for Teacher Development

Lu Pien Cheng & Ho Kyoung Ko

Building and Sustaining a Professional Learning Community: Joining in with Teachers to Improve Mathematics Teaching and Learning

Enrique Galindo, Jean Lee & Gina Borgioli Yoder

Professional Development in a Laboratory Setting Examining Evolution in Teachers' Questioning and Participation

Shweta Shripad Naik & Deborah Loewenberg Ball

Integrating Teaching Research with Teaching Practice: A Modified Chinese Model of Professional Development

Su Liang

Influences on High School Students' Mathematical Problem Solving Performance

Azita Manouchehri & Pingping Zhang

Using Community College Students' Understanding of a Trigonometric Statement to Study Their Instructors' Practical Rationality in Teaching

Vilma Mesa

Using the Evidence-Based MSA Approach to Enhance Teacher Knowledge in Student Mathematics Learning and Assessment

Shuhua An & Zhonghe Wu

Mathematics Professional Development Models for K-12 Mathematics Teachers in California

Viji K. Sundar

Improvement of Teachers' Quality of History of Mathematics through Professional Development

Guoqiang Li

KOSINUS: An Approach to Long-Term Development of Mathematics Education

Matthias Roemer

Supporting Mathematics Teachers' Learning with Educative Curricular Materials

Jonei Cerqueira Barbosa & Andreia Maria Pereira de Oliveira